As sponsor of the Chamber's May Networking Luncheon, held at Miles Grant Country Club, Solaris Healthcare Parkway provided an overview of the services they provide for seniors at their Stuart facility. Solaris also offered their time to Martin County Health Department, who provided COVID-19 statistics, as well as local testing and vaccination information. Shown (left photo) are Chamber Chairman Jeff Sabin, Waste Management; Leslie McKay, Carol Ann Vitani and Ronique Bain, M.C. Health Dept.; Julie Brova and Linda Winters, Solaris Healthcare Parkway; Renay Rouse, M.C. Health Dept. and Chamber President/CEO Joe Catrambone. In honor of Mental Health Awareness Month, Tykes & Teens CEO Eric Garza, shown with Courtney Nientimp, discussed the vital services they provide for children struggling to navigate through these confusing times.

The Chamber was warmly received by the staff of Aycock Funeral Home, as they sponsored the May 2021 Business After Hours at the Young & Prill Chapel in Stuart. The chapel was transformed into a beautifully decorated celebration center, reflecting their idea of celebrating the life of loved ones. Representing Dignity-Aycock were (from left) Laura Barbone, George Seliga, Mike Morabito, Ed Chaklos, Herbie McIntosh, Anne Lalley, Steve Elias, Belinda Brendler, and Peter Nied.
